day was the action of the machinists, repair men and laborers in deciding to stand by the strikers. This action was the result of a meeting held yesterday, and was a surprise to the Carnegie officials. All the men in the departments mentioned have been working every day, and when they quit for the week there was no intimation of their intention to join the strikers to-day. With one exception no attempt has been made by the strikers to trespass on the company's property. A man was found near the general office and was ordered away by Supt. Wrigley. The workman obeyed, but not until he denounced the official, using strong, if not eloquent, language. "The company needn't fear any destruction of property," said a member of the advisory committee, "for our men have agreed not to go near the mill grounds. But if Supt. Wrigley thinks his force of watchmen is not sufficient our organization will detail men to guard the mill." There was no change in the situation at the upper and lower Union mills in this city to-day. The foundry, forge and mechanical departments were still in opera-tion, and the yardmen were at work, but everything else about the big plants was still. Probably eight hundred to one thou-sand of the two thousand eight hundred men employed in these mills were on duty. None of the men who quit last week, how-ever, responded this morning to the company's invitation to return to work. Floud Lodge, Amalgamated Association, composed of workers in the upper and lower mills, met to-day, and after de-nouncing the Pinkertons and Carnegie, adopted resolutions promising physical as well as financial aid to the men at Homestead, and also resolved to stand firm. Speaking of the failure to resume operations to-day General Superintendent Dillon, of the upper and lower Union mills, said: "We did not start this morning because we are not ready to resume. When we are ready we will start the mills. None of the men came back to-day, but for a' that we do not anticipate any trouble at a. in resuming.

It is supposed that the company will endeavor to procure men from some of the surrounding mills to start with, the induceday. As the issue stands to-day the matter is at a standstill. The company has atwork, but has not been successful. The men have organized thoroughly and feel more confident than ever. There is, however, a feeling of uneasiness prevalent among the workmen, which is only natural, considering the fact that if the company is successful in starting its works the men lose their positions. They are confident, however, that the works cannot be run by any but experienced hands, which class they say cannot be procured just at present. Both sides have issued their ultimatum, and in that shape the matter stands. The officials of the Amalgamated Association were very skeptical as to the reliance that ought to be placed on the statement of the Carnegie company that non-union men could be so easily obtained. They say they were convinced it was not true, and as for union men not one of them had faltered from his allegiance to the cause, and they were confident nothing could possibly occur to bring about a break in their ranks. The Homestead steel-works strike has indirectly caused the indefinite suspension of the Braddock wire-works plant, at Rankin Station, and six hundred more men are out of work. The mills-nail, rod, barbedwire and wire-drawing departments-have all closed down owing to a lack of steel billets to make wire rods, etc. The company will take the present opportunity to make important improvements at the plant and eight new barbed-wire machines will be put in, which means thirty additional men when the plant starts up. The company does not know when the mills will start. A stockholder of the Pittsburg Copper-wire Company's works, along the Monongahela river, at Braddock, stated to a reporter that unless some change for the better was made by the mills making billets and using wire rods this week, they will have to shut down their plant next Saturday, as they have no stock of material to run on longer. Genuine Appeal for Aid.

HOMESTEAD, July 18.—The circular reseived by the Central Labor Union of New York, calling for aid for the locked-out men at Homestead was genuine. President Weihe, of the Amalgamated Association, said that the sub-lodges had failed to notify him until to-day of their action. The appeal is issued on behalf of the men at Homestead who are not members of the Amalgamated Association. The association men are receiving an allowance of $4 per week from the general association. Mr. Weine explained his denial of the story, which he made this morning, by stating that he did not know officially of the action at the time. The appeal for aid is already receiving replies. Many private citizens here have responded liberally.

PITTSBURG, July 18.—The railroad men on the Pittsburg, Virginia & Charleston road laugh at the report that they will refuse to haul non-union freight to and from the Homestead mill. They regard the strike at Homestead as none of their business, and say they will not interfere.

CLEVELAND AND STEVENSON.

Two "War Heroes" Meet at Buzzard's Bay

-"How Are You, General?" Buzzard's Bay, Mass., July 18.—Robert Lincoln O'Brien, private secretary to the Hon. Grover Cleveland, came rushing over to the station this morning, from Gray Gables, with a big grip of mail. He was too late to catch the early-closing mail at the village postoffice, but succeeded in pouring the contents of the yellow bag containing the President's correspondence unto the floor of the mail-car. Mr. Cleveland spent a good part of the night in clearing up his correspondence, and this ment being to give them better positions than they have now. When they will start forward for his departure for New York. is not known. Nobody expects a decisive move on either side until about Wednesin the offing awaiting the ex-President's party. While no public statement has been made that Mr. Cleveland will take the all-water route down the bay and out into the sound on the pleasure craft, it is learned from a reliable source that it is his intention to embark on the Benedict craft. Mrs. Joseph Jefferson, the wife of the veteran actor, is expected to accompany the Cleveland party to New York.

When the 8:15 train out of Boston arrived here several minutes late this afternoon a tall, angular man, square-shouldered, and attired in a snit of black worsted, alighted and looked about the platform with an evident air of wonderment if he had reached the right spot. H was accompanied by two other men. He was "Gen." Adlai E. Stevenson, of Illinois, the Democratic candidate for Vicepresident, and his companions were ex-United States District Attorney N. G. Ewing, of Chicago, and Mr. Louis J. Lange, of New York. Mr. Cleveland stood in the doorway of the Old Colony station chatting with Mr. Josiah Jones, of Sandwich, and the latter's son when the train came in. As "General" Stevenson appeared, fol-lowed by Mr. Ewing and Mr. Lange, Mr. Cleveland sprang torward and, grasping the "General's" arm, reached his hand as he spoke in a hearty tone: "How are you, "General?" Mr. Stevenson turned to see who it was and, grasping his hand, said: "I'm glad to see you." Mr. Ewing was introduced, and the three were soon seated in Mr. Cleveland's carriage and driven rapidly away to Gray Gables. Mr Ewing was seated in front beside the coachman, and Grover Cleveland and "General" Stevenson occupied the back seat. Mr. Cleveland had driven over early to meet them and was attired in a new suit of tweed, a fine stripe of brown and white, and a gray, blue and white polka-dot tie in the collar of his blue and white-striped flannel yachting shirt. "General" Stevenson was dusty and travel-

The visitors were given a sail this afternoon among the islands in Buzzard's bay in Mr. Benedict's yacht. It is only a matter of conjecture when the party will leave for New York, the route being known only to those interested. Mr. Cleveland will only remain in New York long enough to conclude the engagement of meeting the committee appointed to inform him of his nomination.

LATER.-Mrs. Cleveland, baby Ruth and Mrs. Joseph Jefferson departed to-night for Newport on the yacht Oneida. It is expected that they will go to New York to meet Messrs. Cleveland and Stevenson and Stevenson go via the Fall River line boat to-morrow night, unless their present plan is changed before that time.

Preparing to Notify Democracy's Candidates. NEW YORK, July 18. - The executive and finance committee of one hundred which has in charge the ceremonies connected with the public notification of Messrs. The finance committee quickly decided that an assessment of $50 each on the hundred committeemen will afford sufficient money to pay all exses of the evening. The ceremonies will take place at Madison-square Garden. There will be but four speeches. Congressman Wilson will make the notification speech to Mr. Cleveland, who will reply. Ex-Lieut.-Gov. Stephen M. White, of California, will notify Mr. Stevenson, who will reply. Immediately after the reception at the garden Messrs. Cleveland and Stevenson will be driven to the Manhattan Club. My Dear Sir-Your letter of July 2 is at hand, and I am exceedingly gratified to learn of your intention to support the principles and candidates of the Chicago convention. I think no sincere advocate of honest tariff can be dissatisfled with the position the Democratic party has assumed on that subject, and I am sure that none need fear that the contest will not be made on the lines laid down, which have already proved to be so acceptable to a great majority of the people. Venezuela's Ex-President Arrives at Bordeaux and Talks to a Reporter. BORDEAUX, July 18.-Ex-President Palacio, of Venezuela, has arrived, accompanied by his wife, son, daughter, niece. and suite, including two secretaries, and the editor of the Opinion Nacionale, of Caracas. The party boarded the steamer Labrador at Fort de France, whither Senor Palacio had been conveyed from Laguyra by a Venezuelan man-of-war, the ostensible object being to honor the departing President, but the real object, there is little doubt, being to insure his quitting the Ex-President Palacio, in an interview with the New York Herald representative shortly after landing, said "I never wished to be dictator, and I never wished to remain in power a single day longer than I believed the necessities of the country demanded. The good of my countrymen was all I desired. I went away because I was told it is for the good of the country and to prevent shedding my countrymen's blood, The whole thing is a question of politics and a question of constitutional reform. There is no social question, and my enemies he when they say such is the case. I defy any one to produce a single proof that I expressed, either in writing or by word of mouth, a desire to retain the presidency. The country, I am confident, was with me, but by a slight majority the Cortes was against me." The ex-President then went over the ground of his troubles with Congress,

Another Interview with Bismarck. BERLIN, July 18. - Another interview with Prince Bismarck is given to the publie by Count Westarp, who saw the Prince some time ago at Friedrichsrahe. The Prince said: "When the Kaiser ascended the throne, one of my colleagues, who hoped to become my successor, said: 'Your Majesty, if Frederick the Great had found at his accession a Minister of the greatness of Bismarck and had kept him in office, he would never have acquired the title of great.' I do not yet know what was the final and immediate cause of my dismissal. A misfortune of our time is the fact of leading ministers not being in the right places. General Von Caprivi would have been an excellent Minister of War, since the army has confidence in him."

Prince Bismarck nearly sobbed when be spoke of the old Emperor William, saving: "It was a pleasure to serve him, yet he had a high idea of his position and his mission as a ruler. For him I would have done anything-even become his valet." The South Sea Disaster.

The Pope's Columbus Encyclical, ROME, July 18 .- The papal encyclical on the Columbus celebrations, that was issued Saturday, directs that on Oct. 12 the mass of the Trinity be celebrated in the Catholic churches of Spain, Italy and America, in honor of Columbus. The encyclical also invites the bishops of other nations to say the same mass. The Pope says he cannot doubt that Columbus was primarily inspired by the Catholic faith. Cable Notes, Typhus fever, besides cholera, is spreading in south Russia. Great mortality has already resulted from this new visitation. The yellow fever scourge continues unabated at Vera Cruz, and the rate of mortality is alarmingly large. Hundreds of people are leaving the city. Why You Should Vote for Harrison.

New York Recorder. Because his home and foreign policy has been thoroughly American. The Republican party, from the hour it came into power under Mr. Lincoln, has been for America against the world. Under Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur it has maintained the highest and best traditions of the fathers-the traditions of Washington, Adams, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, the younger Adams and Jackson. Harrison has followed in their patriotic footsteps firmly, undinchingly. Mr. Cleveland's administration was spotted with the leprosy of foreign subserviency. His economic theories were alien to the soil then as they are now. His Secretary of State negotiated treaties with England and other powers, surrendering so many American rights and principles that the Republican Senate was compelled to reject them. The notorious Joe Chamberlain was one of Cleveland's chief advisers, so far as Great Britain is concerned. There have been no English Tories hanging around the White House since Harrison became its occupant. There will be none of them there during his second term. Republicans Are All Right.

Phi'adelphia Record (Dem.) The chairmanships of the Republican and Democratic national committees seem to go a begging. There is four months of the hardest kind of work-no pay, much abuse, and prospective neglect to follow. It is small wonder that talented men who have the executive ability necessary to till the requirments of party management prefer to turn their labor into some more profitable channel.

Should Be Acquainted with It.

New York Commercial Advertiser. A proper knowledge of the elections bill s beneficial to the Republican cause. Under the pet name of the force bill it is the ogre in the Democratic campaign story. It means honest elections and an honest count, and the more it is read the better for every body.
